

At Home Learning Plan

AP Humanities 11

OHS

Hello everyone, we hope that you and your family are healthy and well during this bizarre and confusing time. We are trying our best to provide you with AP Humanities (APUSH & Lit) learning material while keeping in mind equity issues such as access to technology and other strenuous circumstances. Please do your best to keep up with the work as much as possible.

Please Note: As of the time that this learning plan was created the College Board was still holding both the AP Lit and AP US History tests as previously scheduled. As such you are expected to continue to prepare for both tests. In the event the tests are postponed or canceled, Mr. Roberts and Mr. Hagen will make appropriate changes to the curricula.

AP Literature

Course Objectives/Activities

- Continue to develop literary analysis using poetry and short stories. Mr. Roberts will be assigning poems and short stories to read and analyze through the next two weeks. The stories and poems will either come from Perrines or will be available online through Google Classroom (GC).
- Practice test taking skills (both multiple choice and timed writes) using Albert io and AP Classroom. Note: because I cannot guarantee test security, I will read your timed writes and score them based upon the College Board rubric and check the progress and scores of your multiple choice practice quizzes but you will only receive a participation score for completing these test prep. activities.
- Google Classroom will be updated by 8:05 am for each day marked AP Lit on the calendar below. Please check the GC and complete the assignments as posted.
- Please make use of the opportunities to check in via Google Meets to ask questions about the content and our plans going forward--consider these to be online office hours.
- As always, if you have questions please email Mr. Roberts at droberts@juhsd.net.

AP US History

Course Objectives/Activities

- Continue reading Chapters 23, 24, and 25 of By the People and answer the review questions to submit on Google Classroom by April 3rd. Use posted summaries on Google Classroom and Crash Course to supplement your readings as you complete them. The goal is to keep moving forward with new material as much as possible.

- As before, there will also be Albert.io review activities posted to Google Classroom.
- Please make use of the opportunities to check in via Google Meets to ask questions about the content and our plans going forward.
- As always, if you have questions please email Mr. Hagen at dhagen@jeffersonunion.net.
