PACIFICA STANDS UNITED AGAINST HATE

Friday
November 22nd
6pm
Sanchez Art Center

Join us for an evening to unite against hate at the Sanchez Art Center.

Speaker Jennifer Ball will discuss "Why Inclusive Language Matters" followed by Q&A.

Light refreshments and joy begins at 5:30, talk begins at 6pm. We will also have a special Peace Flag art project!

United Against Hate is a movement that emerged in 2017 in response to increasing numbers of hate crimes in the Bay Area. In an effort to visibly reject these acts, the City of Berkeley created the iconic “United Against Hate” posters to send the clear message that hate would not be tolerated. The message resonated with other communities, and the poster and movement spread quickly throughout the Bay Area and beyond. In 2018, leaders in Berkeley rallied community members, local organizations, elected leaders, and faith groups throughout the Bay Area to launch the inaugural United Against Hate Week of Action.

The United Against Hate Week of Action will occur November 17-23, 2019. If you are interested in taking a stand against hate, check out the 20 Ideas for Action found on the United Against Hate website, <https://unitedagainsthateweek.org/ideas-for-action-2019> which gives a number of ideas for how to show your support and rally others to the cause.

Come by Pacifica City Hall and pick up your own United Against Hate poster to keep and share.
